1.1 About this manual

The purpose of compiling this manual is to provide a usable reference to the end-user at the time where the developer is not present. In general it will guide the user to follow the procedure from installing, to using the utilities provided by the system, in chronological order.

The user manual can be divided in these sections:

- Installation Procedure
- How to run the system
- The first run wizard and it's features
- Touring through the main functions of the system
  - ✓ The PIM (Personal Information Manager)
  - ✓ The H.T.I. utilities
- How to uninstall the software
- Troubleshooter
