1. Introduction

Football Coach Multimedia System has been designed to make the training and the way to get information of the future coaches easier. It will replace all these football coaching books with a computerized system. The system can provide all the necessary information that exists in these books and seminars in an easy way. Every interested people can easily get any information from his home, any time through his own computer. All the information a coach will need are gathered together to save money and time for them.

An easy back office was designed for the administrators to make it easier to maintain and update the data through very understandable input screens.

2. Use This Manual

This user manual contains all the necessary guidelines on how to use the system. Explanatory illustrations, retrieved from the system, are displayed and explained in order for the user to understand how to use the various applications of the system. Copy of screens are also provided to this manual in order to explain to the user every field and button of each page. Although the system is very easy for use and every one can understand it, it is my obligation to make sure that the user is fully aware of the system's operation.
