ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT
DIPLOMA PROJECT

2003/2004

Project Number: E. 1362

Title:

"Engineering Education at the HTI with Web site Support."

Objectives:

To design a website containing study and training material for the HTI Electrical Engineering students.

Terms and Conditions:

- Investigate the suitability of programs employed for the development of the existing website.
- Further investigation of programs and/or formats suitable for storing notes, presentations and tutorials.
- Investigation of programs formats suitable for interactive training and webinars.
- Select new or use the existing programs to develop further the web site.
- The page is required to be easy to navigate protected by access codes for the specific courses.

Student : Mr. Loukas Neocleous.
Supervisor : Mr. Spyros P Spyrou.
External Assessor : Mr. ??????????????????.

Acknowledgements

In this attempt in HTI I have passed a lot of hardness happenings. I want to thank the person who was always near me and supported me in the difficult moments, my fiancée. I hope to have a live full of love in our new live since we will be married on 10th of July 2004.

Also I want to thanks my friend George for his help and his supporting those three years we are together.

Summary

This project shows the different steps in the development of a Web page, for the most important faculties of the design programs. Includes information about HTI and the different departments of it. By reading this program you can be able to learn about some Web design programs and briefly their facilities.

The look likes of the page and all the files used are shown in the attached CD-ROM.
