1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introducing the system

Welcome to the multimedia tool “Multimedia Aided learning system about a Cypriot village” which deals with the history, societies and organizations, village life, hospital that is found there and culture (tradition). The village that is going to be presented is Kyperounta, which is a mountain place in Pitsilia area.

“Aided learning system about a Cypriot Village” is a tool for helping people who are interested to learn about this village and the way of life in Pitsilia area generally. The users will be able to be informed regarding the village through plain text, photos, videos, traditional music, etc.

Furthermore the user will be able to copy and print any image or any plain text that he/she is interested, just by pressing a button.

1.2 How to use this manual

This manual is very helpful if you use the table of contents in the beginning of the book. When you find the appropriate section you can search for the topic in the page that is written on the right of the topic. When you need help regarding music button for example you should search for the topic buttons in the table of contents.

Every description of a specific screen or button is going to be given along with its image (screen).

It is very important to read first the requirements of the PC that the program is going to run or being installed in order to work with the tool completely and exercise all the available functionalities and facilities.
